Vintage

The vintage in Margaret River has been deemed exceptional. Warm weather before and during vintage reduced yields, however the fruit quality delivered showing intense flavour and wines with varietal substance.

Winemaking

The fruit was hand picked and sorted, then crushed into open vats for a cool, extended ferment to retain the aromatics and flavours whilst permitting high levels of colour, fine tannin and varietal characteristics to be extracted.

Tasting Notes

On entry this wine expresses hints of cigar box, leather and bay, which then leads to cassis and dark berry fruit. The palate is rich in black cherry flesh, which is supported by integrated tannin and ends in dark chocolate, tobacco and dried herb. Alcohol 14.5%
